

Berkshire Museum Camera Club COMPETITION RULES

The Berkshire Museum Camera Club holds regular competitions for color prints, black & white prints, slides and digital images. The purpose of these competitions is to increase each member's enjoyment of photography through comparison, study, and evaluation for personal improvement. Dates and topics of competitions are listed in the Club's yearly program and online at <http://www.berkshirecameraclub.org>. These rules can also be found on our website.

References to "digital images" in these rules refer to projected images that are not traditional film-based slides. Color and black and white prints may be produced by a digital camera or a film camera but in these rules will simply be referred to as "prints."

1. Entering. Any member of the Club may submit up to four entries on a competition night. There may be 2 submissions in any one of the categories: color print, b&w print, slide or digital image. Each image entered after that must be in different categories. In other words, the four images can not be entered into just two categories. It is not necessary to submit as many as four images, it is okay to submit three or less. The same image may not be submitted in two different media. All print and slide entries must be submitted to the Print and Slide Competition Chairs no later than 6:45pm on the competition night. All digital entries must be emailed to the Digital Competition Chair one week before the competition night. For instance, if the competition is on Tuesday, Oct. 6 then the digital images must be emailed no later than Tuesday, Sept. 29. Any prints or slides received after 6:45pm on the competition night or digital images received later than a week before the competition night will not be eligible for that competition.

2. Color slides must be in mounts that measure 2 x 2 inches and spotted correctly for projection, (that is, as the slide is to be viewed on the screen, a spot should be in the lower left-hand corner of the mount). The maker's name and a title should be printed on the slide mount. See examples:

3. Digital images may be highly processed but must be entirely the maker's own work. No part of the image may be taken from an outside source. Any post processing must be done by the maker or under his or her personal direction. Digital images must be submitted as JPEGs (.jpg), max width of 1024 pixels x max height of 768 pixels (the images can be smaller than these dimensions), and no larger than 350kb. It is also suggested that the image resolution be no greater than 100 pixels per inch (ppi) and that the color space be sRGB. The image file name must have: maker's first initial and last name. title. date of competition.number of image submitted.jpg, thus: slips.flower.20091006.1.jpg

4. Color and black & white prints may be commercially processed and the competitions are open to virtually all forms of photographic art. This includes digital imaging, Polaroid transfers, hand coloring, etc. However, the original image must be made by the exhibitor on photographic emulsion or acquired with a digital camera. Any modification of the original image must be made by the exhibitor or under his or her personal direction. The final work must be on photographic or electronic print material. Prints must be mounted on boards or held in slip-in mounts up to 16 x 20 inches in size. The maker's name and a title should be printed on the back of the mount. Nothing should be printed on the front.

5. Classes. For the purpose of the color print and digital competitions the club is divided into two classes: Regular and Advanced. The b&w print and slide competitions have no classes. First, second and third ribbons will be awarded to the winners in both classes. Regular is for photographers who are new to the club or members who prefer to be in this class. Advanced is for members who have more experience and who received higher average scores during the previous club year. A member can always ask to move up to the Advanced class if they would like to but members who have scored high enough to be in the Advanced class may not move back to Regular.

6. Judging. The Club's regular competitions (that is, excluding Color Print of the Year, B&W Print of the Year, Slide of the Year, Digital Image of the Year, and any special competitions) are judged either by a single judge or a panel of three judges. Any member serving as a judge shall give each of his or her own images, and each of his or her spouse's images, a score which is the average of the scores given by the other two judges on that image.

7. Scoring. All entries are previewed briefly prior to the judging. Each of the judges awards a score of up to 10 points if they are one of three judges or they award a score of up to 30 points if they are judging alone. Therefore an image will receive a total score of up to 30 points. After the judging of all entries, winning entries are shown and the makers' names are announced, and the judges are encouraged to comment. Discussion of each image by the members is encouraged.

8. Awards in regular competitions are as follows: 1st place, 2nd place, and 3rd place in color prints, black & white prints, slides and digital images. In the case of a tie of two images, two awards will be made. The maximum possible number of awards is four; for instance, a tie for first, one second and one third. Judges will be asked to break ties if there are so many that we would have to award more than four ribbons, starting with the lower placed ties. The original scores for end of the year totals are not changed.

If any category has three competitors or less, only a 1st place ribbon shall be awarded. Honorable mentions are not given in regular competitions.

9. Topics. Entries should fit the topic shown on the Club's Program. When a slide or print submitted is deemed not to fit the topic, the judges shall be instructed to deduct 2 points if they are one of three judges or to deduct 6 points if they are a lone judge. Images which are judged off topic will not be eligible to win an award.

10. End of Year Score. There are a total of seven competitions in each of color prints, black and white prints, slides, and digital. For end of year scores, the top seven scores in each medium will be used.

11. Resubmitting. Images winning awards in any of the Club's regular competitions or in the "Color Print of the Year," "B&W Print of the Year," "Slide of the Year," and "Digital Image of the Year" contests will be ineligible for reentry in the club's regular competitions forever. Winning slides may not be submitted again as prints or vice versa. These restrictions do not apply to inter-club competitions or fun club competitions where no points are given.

12. End of Year Competitions. The annual "Color Print of the Year," "B&W Print of the Year," "Slide of the Year," and "Digital Image of the Year" contests are scheduled after the season's last regular competitions. A member may reenter any 3 color prints, 3 black & white prints, 3 color slides and 3 digital images previously submitted in the regular competitions during the current Camera Club year (September-May). These are sent to an outside judge and awards are given for 1st, 2nd, 3rd and up to 3 Honorable Mentions in each class.

Awards are also given to those members who have accumulated high point totals through the season's regular and category competitions. The seven highest scores a member achieved in each of the three media will be summed and an award will be given to the member achieving the largest total in each media. All awards are made at the Annual Awards Dinner.

13. Fowler & Pharmer Awards. There are two award competitions that also occur at year-end: the Warren Fowler Award for the Best Nature Print and the Paul Pharmer Award for the Best Print of a Child or Children. Members may submit up to three prints for each of these competitions. The entries can be color or black and white prints. Prints from slides or digital images are okay, but no actual slides or digital images may be entered. There is one winner in each of these competitions and up to 5 honorable mentions awarded.

14. Make ups. No make ups are allowed. Please make arrangements to have someone else submit your entries for you if you can't attend a competition.

15. NECCC & Glennie Competitions. Competitions are also used to select digital images to represent the Club in New England Camera Club Council (NECCC) and Glennie Nature competitions. Each member may submit to the NECCC & Glennie chair up to 3 digital images in each category. The chair will send out more information about these competitions before the deadline for the first one of the year.

Here is a brief overview of their rules.

NECCC: It is strongly suggested that all photographs be converted to the sRGB color space. That color space most closely approximates the capability of monitors and projectors to display color and usually results in the best presentation of your image.

Photographs will be projected using a projector having 1024 pixels in the horizontal direction and 768 pixels in the vertical direction. Photographs must fit within those dimensions. Unless your photograph's proportions are in the exact ratio of 4 to 3, one of these dimensions will be less than the maximum. For example, if you have a vertical photograph, the height will be 768 pixels, but the width will be significantly less than 1024 pixels. A square photograph will be 768 pixels by 768 pixels under these rules. Smaller photographs are acceptable.

It is suggested (though not a requirement) that entries be saved with the proper amount of compression so that the file size does not exceed 350 KB.

Glennie: Each digital image may have a maximum width of 1024 pixels and a maximum height of 768 pixels. The image must be submitted in JPEG (.jpg) format and the size is limited to no more than 1 Megabyte (MB). It is suggested that the image resolution be no greater than 100 pixels per inch (ppi) and that the color space be sRGB.

16. Exhibition. At the conclusion of the Club season, or just at the beginning of the next season, selected photographs from the season's competitions may be exhibited by the Club in the Museum or elsewhere.
